THE LONDON MARKET FORUMS
BRINGING INSURANCE PROFESSIONALS TOGETHER

The history between the London Insurance Market and North America is a long and trusted one, generating a significant proportion of the business coming into Lloyd's and EC3 generally. Within the Market there are thousands of people specialising in North American underwriting, placing, claims and binder management, all supported by a diverse range of insurance professionals.

The North American Forum will bring together insurance practitioners and those supporting this important sector. The London Market relies heavily on other professionals on the ground in the USA and Canada to help defend claims, perform risk assessments, undertake loss adjusting, alongside a whole range of valuable business services.

- Attorneys
- Loss Adjusters
- Advisors and Consultants
- Engineers and Surveyors
- Coverholders and Agents
- Technology Providers

The Forum will allow Members to discuss, debate and learn about the issues affecting the sector, ranging from legal and regulatory to economic and political, allowing them to understand the trading environment and consequential impact on the sector. Members, both insurance practitioners and service providers on both sides of the Atlantic, will have a genuine opportunity to understand the changes occurring and what this means to them. Meet your peers and make new connections – North American Forum, the place where international professionals meet and network. Join the Forum today – www.lmforums.com/us
