“NEW WORLD” SERIES

IMPACT ON HUMAN CAPITAL

30th June 2020
11.30AM - 1.00PM
ZOOM ROUNDTABLE

In this third Roundtable event of our NEW WORLD series, LMForums, the Market’s most active Thought Leadership and Networking Hub, will be bringing together leading Market Practitioners and subject matter experts from the world of consulting, academia, human behaviour and professional leadership coaching to discuss and debate the impact of this extended period of remote working on our workforce.

We'll be looking at the effect on our greatest asset; our people. We debate how we maintain the strength of our team dynamics and how in this distance working environment we continue to ensure a feeling of “belonging”, which is essential to building a culture of trust and purpose.

From the importance of ensuring our management have the right tools and training to getting the best from their colleagues to how we ensure our workforce continue to receive the most appropriate learning and development tools, with the counsel of our participating experts, we will openly debate these important topics. We are grateful to our supporters, The Pen Partnership, Sheridan Resolutions and the University of Exeter.

This sudden and unforeseen pandemic has the potential to reshape our workplace and workforce forever. Join us on 30th June for this special roundtable event, take away some valuable tips in remote team management and share your own experiences of the last three months.
